

Stockton Teacher Education Program- For Interested Students

Welcome to the Stockton University School of Education. Whether you are in high school or a current college student who is considering attending or transferring to Stockton or you are a current Stockton student or a graduate of another college, you will find a variety of programs that can be tailored to help you reach your goals in education! This sheet describes how to review the various paths that lead to teacher certification.

Things you'll need to know to get started:

Teaching interest level

- Early childhood (P-3)
- Elementary with optional middle school certifications (K-8)
- Secondary (6-12)
- K-12 (*Art & World Language only)

Major

- If you have yet to earn a BA/BS degree you select a liberal arts major (see back for options based on teaching interest). If you already hold a BA/BS degree you select the Teacher Education (see back for details).
- On the back of this sheet is a list of degree paths by certification level and subject to help you decide what will be best for you.

To see the curriculum for your area of interest you'll use the web program, DegreeWorks. This program is accessible even if you are a transfer student.

“TREQ: Transfer Equivalency” (in blue rectangle)

At the next page you are prompted with three (3) options. Select the one that says “continue without signing in.”

Respond to each prompt using the pull-down menu in the center of the page. *Please be patient. It may take a few seconds for the system to process your request. (If you see a sign you need to wait a moment!) Prompts include:

- Enrollment dates
- Intended level (you'll say “undergraduate”)
- What degree you will pursue (you'll say “Bachelor of Arts”)
- What is your intended major (see back for the list of major options by certification area)
