

Poll: New Jersey voters still concerned about property taxes

By David Levinsky Staff writer | Posted: Tuesday, June 18, 2013 5:00 am

New Jersey's high property taxes continue to rankle voters, who rank them and jobs as the two most important issues facing New Jersey, according to a poll by the Richard Stockton College of New Jersey.

Released Sunday by the Stockton Polling Institute, the poll found that 79 percent of likely voters believe their p

