Drue Heinz Literature Prize

Deadline: June 30, 2019. (All submissions must be postmarked on or after May 1 and on or before June 30.)

Amount: The prize carries a cash award of $15,000 and publication by the University of Pittsburgh Press under its standard contract.

Abstract:

Eligible submissions include an unpublished manuscript of short stories; two or more novellas (a novella may comprise a maximum of 130 double-spaced typed pages); or a combination of one or more novellas and short stories. Novellas are only accepted as part of a larger collection. Manuscripts may be no fewer than 150 and no more than 300 pages. Prior publication of your manuscript as a whole in any format (including electronic) makes it ineligible.

Eligibility: The award is open to writers who have published at least one collection of three short stories or novellas in magazines or journals of national distribution. Digital-only publication and self-publication do not count toward this requirement.

The award is open to writers in English, whether or not they are citizens of the United States. University of Pittsburgh employees, former employees, current students, and those who have been students within the last three years are not eligible for the award.

Authors may submit more than one manuscript to the competition as long as one manuscript or a portion thereof does not duplicate material submitted in another manuscript.
